

EmployAssure

The Complete Employment Law Solution

It's an employer's worst nightmare – You have a problem with a member of staff but lack time and resources to research and comprehend the mass of regulations produced by Whitehall on a daily basis.

The nightmare is a reality for thousands of managers. The high cost of employing legal experts and open-ended bills are a real issue for most firms, while the rates of employee litigation and levels of award are growing.

EmployAssure the complete Employment Law solution from Boys & Maughan gives you....

A Fixed Fee because we recognise that you need expert advice when it comes to employer/employee relations, but you also need to carefully manage your budget for these legal services. That's why the EmployAssure package is precisely tailored to the size and the needs of your business. Once you are happy with your package we agree an annual fixed fee – it's that simple!

A Comprehensive Review of your employee contracts, policies, procedures, handbooks and Terms & Conditions with redrafting where necessary.

A Free Solicitor Helpline for advice on employment decisions. Employment issues are notoriously sensitive and delicate and can “blow up” suddenly. You might need advice straight away in order to fully understand your legal obligations and to talk through with us just how to handle the situation. We guarantee to speak to you on the same day!

Indemnity Insurance to protect you against legal costs and awards up to £100,000 per claim.

Quarterly Updates with advice on how new legislation may impact upon your organisation.

An Annual Audit. As the law changes so quickly, it's easy to get left behind, or worse caught out! As part of your fixed fee, we will review your standard employment contract and your company handbook once a year and suggest any changes that may be necessary to keep your business operating within the law

Legal Representation should you be unfortunate enough to be taken to a tribunal. Advice and representation will be provided by one of our experienced team of specialist solicitors, who are aware not only of the impact of cases on those individuals involved but also of the importance of handling such matters professionally in order to safeguard your company's reputation and preserve the morale of the rest of your team

EmployAssure the fixed-cost, anxiety-free solution to the worries of the increasing amount of Employment Law litigation facing all employers.
